Third Sunday of Advent
December 11, 2016

Isaiah 35:1-6, 10; Psalm 146;
James 5:7-10; Matthew 11:2-11

A SEASON OF HOPE

Today we can bask in the imagery that the Mass readings offer us. In particular, Isaiah’s vision of a parched land that blooms with abundant flowers holds a message for each of us. Too often we are just like that parched land. We can allow ourselves to become absorbed in the waves of consumerism that grip so many. We look for fulfillment in the things that money can buy. Unfortunately, this leaves us like parched land, thirsting for something that money can’t buy. This holy season has much to offer to quench our thirsts. In a word, this season offers hope. We are told that those who are ransomed by God will know joy and gladness. For them, sorrow and mourning will be no more. Let us place our hope in these promises.

Questions of the Week:
On this 3rd Sunday of Advent, Jesus teaches us that we have reason to rejoice. In today’s Gospel reading, we find that John had been thrown into jail for doing his job. John sent his followers to Jesus to ask if he was the one God promised to send. Jesus does not answer directly, but points to the signs of the kingdom present in his midst. This Gospel passage goes on to describe John the Baptist and how he is a messenger sent by God with the highest mission — to prepare the coming of Jesus. Like all prophets, John the Baptist is a model of faithfulness. The Gospel today reminds us to be faithful and spread the good news about Jesus throughout the world today—a world in need of healing and mercy.

What do you find hopeful about today’s readings? How does John the Baptist inspire us? Who are some people that spread God’s healing and mercy in the world today?

SOCK & TRAVEL SIZE TOILETRY DRIVE
Your donation of new white socks, travel size toiletries, new small tubes of toothpaste and new toothbrushes will provide comfort, warmth and dignity to our sisters and brothers living unsheltered on the streets of our neighborhood. Collection barrels can be found in the vestibule of the church, and the CFF school lobby until December 11th. Thank you for your generosity! This is a Advent Service Project organized by the 2016 Mater Dolorosa Confirmation 2 class.
